BIOLOGICALLY ACTIVE POLYMER PRODUCTS

ABSTRACT

5

10

A biologically active polymer product having a biologically active compound moiety immobilized to a polymer substrate through a covalent bond. The biologically active compound moiety such as an antibiotic exerts selective biological activity while being covalently bonded to the polymer substrate. A biologically active polymer product in which two or more biologically active compound moietys are linked to a polymer substrate through a graft chain or a pendant chain.